

Of Soil will be the third book in a trilogy that I am in the process of creating. The first, Of Water, is currently being written. The second, Of Seeds, is completed. None of these have been published.